EXPERTISE AND RESEARCH INTERESTS

Aaron Wolf is a professor of geography in the College of Earth, Ocean, and Atmospheric Sciences at Oregon State University. He has an M.S. in water resources management (1988, emphasizing hydrogeology) and a Ph.D. in environmental policy analysis (1992, emphasizing dispute resolution) from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. His research focuses on issues relating transboundary water resources to political conflict and cooperation, where his training combining environmental science with dispute resolution theory and practice have been particularly appropriate.

Wolf has acted as consultant to the US Government, the World Bank, the US Bureau of Reclamation, and several international governments and development partners on various aspects of water resources and conflict management. He has been involved in developing the strategies for resolving water aspects of the Arab-Israeli conflict, including co-authoring a State Department reference text, and participating in both official and "track II" meetings between co-riparians around the world. He is author of Hydropolitics Along the Jordan River: The Impact of Scarce Water Resources on the Arab-Israeli Conflict (United Nations University Press, 1995); co-author of Core and Periphery: A Comprehensive Approach to Middle Eastern Water (Oxford University Press, 1997), Transboundary Freshwater Dispute Resolution: Theory, Practice and Annotated References (United Nations University Press, 2000), Managing and Transforming Water Conflicts (Cambridge University Press, 2009), and Reaching Across the Waters: Facing the Risks of Cooperation in International Waters (World Bank Press, 2012); and editor of Conflict Prevention and Resolution in Water Systems (Elgar, 2002). All told, he is (co-) author or (co-) editor of seven books, and close to 100 journal articles, book chapters, and professional reports on various aspects of transboundary waters. His most recent book is The Spirit of Dialogue: Lessons from Faith Traditions in Transforming Conflict (Island Press, 2017).

Wolf, a trained mediator/facilitator, directs the Program in Water Conflict Management and Transformation, through which he has offered workshops, facilitations, and mediation in basins throughout the world. He developed and coordinates the Transboundary Freshwater Dispute Database, which includes a computer compilation of 400 water-related treaties, negotiating notes and background material on fourteen case-studies of conflict resolution, news files on cases of acute water-related conflict, and assessments of indigenous/traditional methods of water conflict resolution (www.transboundarywaters.orst.edu). He was also a member of UNESCO's task force for the development of the Sixth Phase of the International Hydrology Program (2002-2007), the UNESCO/ADC Third Millennium Program on International Waters, and IWRA's Committee for International Collaboration, and is a co-director of the Universities Partnership on Water Cooperation & Diplomacy.

Wolf was awarded the 2016 American Association of Geographers Gilbert R. White Distinguished Public Service Honor "in recognition of his work on seeking peaceful approaches to international competition over water resources," and the 2015 Heinz Award for Public Policy for "applying 21st century insights and ingenuity, as well as ancient wisdoms, to complex problems for the security of the planet." He was also named first place for the 2013 II Monito del Giardino Environmental Award by the Fondazione Parchi Monumentali Bardini Peyron, in Florence, Italy; was named a "Wonking Class Hero," by Miller-McCune Magazine in 2009; received the OSU Milton Harris Award in Basic Research in 2008; was named "Outstanding Freshman Teacher" at the University of Alabama in 1997; and, with Ariel Dinar, was awarded "Best Paper" for 1997 in Agriculture and Resource Economic Review.

Wolf is a member of the Oregon Academy of Sciences, the Association of American Geographers, the American Water Resources Association, and the International Water Resources Association, and an associate member of the International Association for Water Law. He is an associate editor of World Water Policy, and is on the editorial board of Water International (he was an associate editor from 1995-1999).

EDUCATION

University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI
Land Resources Program, 1990-92
-Degree: Ph.D. Emphasis: Environmental Policy Analysis

University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI
Water Resources Management Program, 1988-90
-Degree: M.S. Emphasis: Hydrogeology

San Francisco State University, San Francisco, CA
Major: Physical Geography/Resource Management, 1982-85
-Degree: B.A., Magna Cum Laude, Phi Beta Kappa

Professional Focus: Shared Waters Conflict Prevention, Management, and Transformation
Water Resources and Environmental Institutional Development and Policy Analysis

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

PROFESSOR OF GEOGRAPHY, College of Earth, Ocean, and Atmospheric Sciences Fall 2006 to Present
CHAIR, Department of Geosciences Fall 2009 to Summer 2012
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR, Department of Geosciences Fall 2001 to Summer 2006
ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, Department of Geosciences Fall 1998 to Summer 2001
Oregon State University, Corvallis, OR

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, Department of Geography Fall 1993 to Summer 1998
University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, AL

FELLOW, Center For Environmental Policy Studies Fall 1992 to Fall 1993
University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

PROFESSOR OF WATER COOPERATION & DIPLOMACY Fall 2017 to Spring 2018
IHE-Delft Institute for Water Education, Delft, The Netherlands

ACADEMIC DIRECTOR, OSU Natural Resources Leadership Academy Fall 2013 to Present
• Outreach & Engagement Vice Provost Award for Excellence - Strategic Impact Award, 2014

HONORARY PROFESSOR, Institute of Boundary and Ocean Studies Spring 2013-Spring 2016
Wuhan University, Hubei Province, China

VISITING SCHOLAR, Department of Geography Fall 2004-Spring 2005
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel

DIRECTOR and FOUNDING PARTNER, Universities Partnership for Transboundary Waters May 2002 to Present
• A consortium of 10 universities on five continents to support focused training, research, and service

DIRECTOR, Program in Water Conflict Management & Transformation Fall 1994 to Present

MEMBER, Water Permanent Monitoring Programme, World Federation of Scientists Fall 2001 to Present

MEMBER, Middle East Water Commission Fall 1993 to Spring 1997
• Research group focusing on interdisciplinary work parallel to peace negotiations on Middle East water

“PEACE SCHOLAR” Fall 1991 to Fall 1992
• Support from the US Institute of Peace for research relating water scarcity to international conflict

ADVISORY EXPERIENCE

The World Bank

Washington, DC

- Member of Core Team to develop International Waters Window and training course. Spring 2001-Present
- Co-authored study comparing instances of water conflict and cooperation. Spring-Summer 1996

U.S. Agency for International Development

Spring 1994-Present

Washington, DC

- Co-authored background papers in support of new USAID programs; worked on implementation of international waters programs in Caucasus, southern Africa, SE Asia, and MENA region.

UNESCO/PCCP/ADC Third Millennium

Winter 1997 to 2005

Valencia, Spain; Paris, France

- Organizing committee, Center for the Prevention and Management of Water Conflicts.

United Nations University

Tokyo, Japan

- Organized and co-directed planning workshop for stakeholders of Salween basin. Spring-Summer 1999
- Wrote and presented background paper for Mideast policymakers in Cairo, Egypt. Winter 1992

Alabama Office of Water Resources

Spring 1998 to Summer 1999

Montgomery, AL

- Helped develop Alabama position for Tri-State (Ala., Ga., Fla.) water compact negotiations.

US Department of State

Winter 1997 to Summer 1998

Washington, DC

- Gave Regional Environmental Hub briefings on African and East Asian rivers; contributed to development of gaming exercises on the Tigris, Mekong, and Jordan Rivers.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency/Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources

Madison, WI

Fall 1992 to Summer 1993

- Analyzed Wisconsin rural compliance with Clean Water Act sections on non-point source pollution.

Foreign Service Institute, U.S. Department of State

Summer 1992 to Winter 1993

Washington, DC

- Co-authored reference text for multilateral Arab-Israeli peace talks on water; presented history of Middle East water politics and options for the future for peace talk water negotiators.

Worked in advisory capacity to governments of: Uzbekistan (2016), Afghanistan (2015), Netherlands (2014-2018), Germany (2014, 2006, 2001), Singapore (2003-2005), Mexico (2003), and Alabama (1998).

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT AND RESEARCH TEAMS

GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE, GIZ, AND ADELPHI RESEARCH: International Expert Workshop
Recommendations to the German Federal Foreign Office on a hydro-diplomatic initiative in the Nile Basin.
Berlin, 16-18 October 2014.

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY AND TUFTS UNIVERSITY: Water Diplomacy Research
Coordination Network (RCN) Steering Committee. 2012-Present.

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY: Helped develop the Natural Resources Leadership Academy, which won Best
Credit Program and the Best Overall Program awards at the Western Association of Summer Session
Administrators in 2012; and the OSU Outreach & Engagement Vice Provost Award for Excellence -
Strategic Impact Award, 2014.

PORTLAND STATE UNIVERSITY: Affiliate Member, Middle East Studies Center. 2011-Present.

USAID/IRG: Member, Research Team, Regional Water Governance Benchmarking Project. Collaboration between IRG, International Water Management Institute, and Oregon State University. 2009-Present.

UN ENVIRONMENT PROGRAMME: Member, River and Lake Basins Ecosystems Working Group. May 2008-Present.

USAID/MEKONG RIVER COMMISSION: Team Member for the project: "Promoting Regional Cooperation in the Mekong River Basin." 2006-09.

WOODROW WILSON INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR SCHOLARS: Working Group Member, Water Conflict and Cooperation Working Group for the project, "Navigating Peace: Forging New Water Partnerships." April 2003-Present.

UN ENVIRONMENT PROGRAMME: Member, Dams and Development Forum. February 2003-Present.

INTERNATIONAL FOOD POLICY RESEARCH INSTITUTE: Member, Ad Hoc Advisory Panel for the Challenge Program for Water for Food (Theme 5). February 2003-Present.

WORLD WATER COUNCIL, WATER ACTION UNIT: Advisor, "Sharing Water Project." June 2002-Present.

ORGANIZATION FOR SECURITY AND CO-OPERATION IN EUROPE: Advisor to the Economic and Environmental Sub-Committee for a program on The Co-operation for the Sustainable Use and the Protection of Quality of Water in the OSCE Context. Winter 2002-Present.

UNESCO INTERNATIONAL HYDROLOGY PROGRAM: Member of Advisory Committee to develop program on "From Potential Conflict to Cooperation Potential" and Chair of panel on History and Future of International Waters. Spring 2001-Present.

UNESCO, INTERNATIONAL HYDROLOGY PROGRAM (IHP): Member of Task Force to develop IHP Program, VI Phase (2002-2007). March 1998-June 2007.

SOUTHERN AFRICA DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY (SADC) and GTZ: Technical support to SADC Water Sector for development of Limpopo and Orange River Basin Commissions. Johannesburg, South Africa, 25-26 January 2001.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NATIONAL LABORATORY: Affiliate Staff Scientist. Spring 1997 to Present

EUROPEAN SCIENCE FOUNDATION: Research development on ESF Pilot Project, "Sharing Scarce Fresh Water Resources in the Mediterranean Basin: An Economic Perspective." Fall 1991 to Fall 1992.

HONORS AND AWARDS

Awarded, by the University of Wisconsin Nelson Institute for Environmental Studies, the 2018 Distinguished Alumni Award.

Nominated, OSU Honors College Outstanding Professor of the Year Award, Spring 2016.

Awarded, by the American Association of Geographers, the 2016 Gilbert F. White Distinguished Public Service Honors. AAG Honors are the highest awards offered by the Association, offered annually in six categories "to recognize outstanding accomplishments by members."

Awarded "in recognition of his work on seeking peaceful approaches to international competition over water resources."

Awarded, by OnPoint Corporation, "Faculty of the Game," awarded each home football game to an OSU faculty member of merit, 4 September 2015.

Awarded, by the Heinz Family Foundation, the 2015 Heinz Award for Public Policy. Cited for “applying 21st-century insights and ingenuity, as well as ancient wisdoms, to complex problems for the security of the planet.”

Awardees receive an unrestricted $250,000 prize and a silver medallion, and must meet three standards:

First, nominees must exhibit the following personal characteristics: A passion for excellence that goes beyond intellectual curiosity; a concern for humanity rooted in a deep sensitivity for the well-being of others; and a broad vision which extends far beyond the particular and embraces something universal.

Second, work of the candidates for a Heinz Award must meet the following criteria: Be significant and not a "quick fix"; have an enduring and meaningful impact; be creative and innovative; and be sufficiently tangible to serve as a model for replication elsewhere.

Third, candidates should be actively working in the field in which they are nominated so that this award will enhance their potential for future societal contribution
